

– Microresidence Network Online Meeting –
Y-AIR concept “AIR × Art University”
International career development of young artists

After the Microresidence Network Forum 2020 Tokyo in February 2020, the global pandemic of the new coronavirus forced the cancellation or postponement of face-to-face international exchange, AIR, and study abroad programs since then. The situation is changing and we are beginning to see the some developments under various restrictions.

We would like to invite members who are interested in this theme and have conducted case studies with us to exchange information on the past two years' progress and future plans for the program. We would like to discuss ideas on how to continue the networking opportunities and next actions.
